How would you rate your digital teaching experience of this semester so far?

SLIDE: Corona-Semester: Proctored Exams (1/3)

227

Do you see an unfair advantage for those writing exams digitally over those writing exams in person, or the other way around?

digital exams provide an unfair advantage over personal exams

there is no unfair advantage of one over the other personal exams provide an unfair advantage over digital exams

SLIDE: Corona-Semester: Proctored Exams (2/3)

2 3 5

Should we prioritize creating an option to write exams, even if this means the usual data protection standards cannot be guaranteed?

(1/2)

yes, prioritize exams over data protection at all cost

It's okay if data protection suffers, as long as proctored exams are voluntary and there is an equal alternative (aside from lost time) at a later point in time. Personal Hardware may be used.

SLIDE: #3 Livestream or pre-recorded? (1/2)

2 8 2

In lectures with >100 students, would you rather...

...join a livestream and ask questions in the chat?

...listen to a streamed recording, questions being answered in the chat?

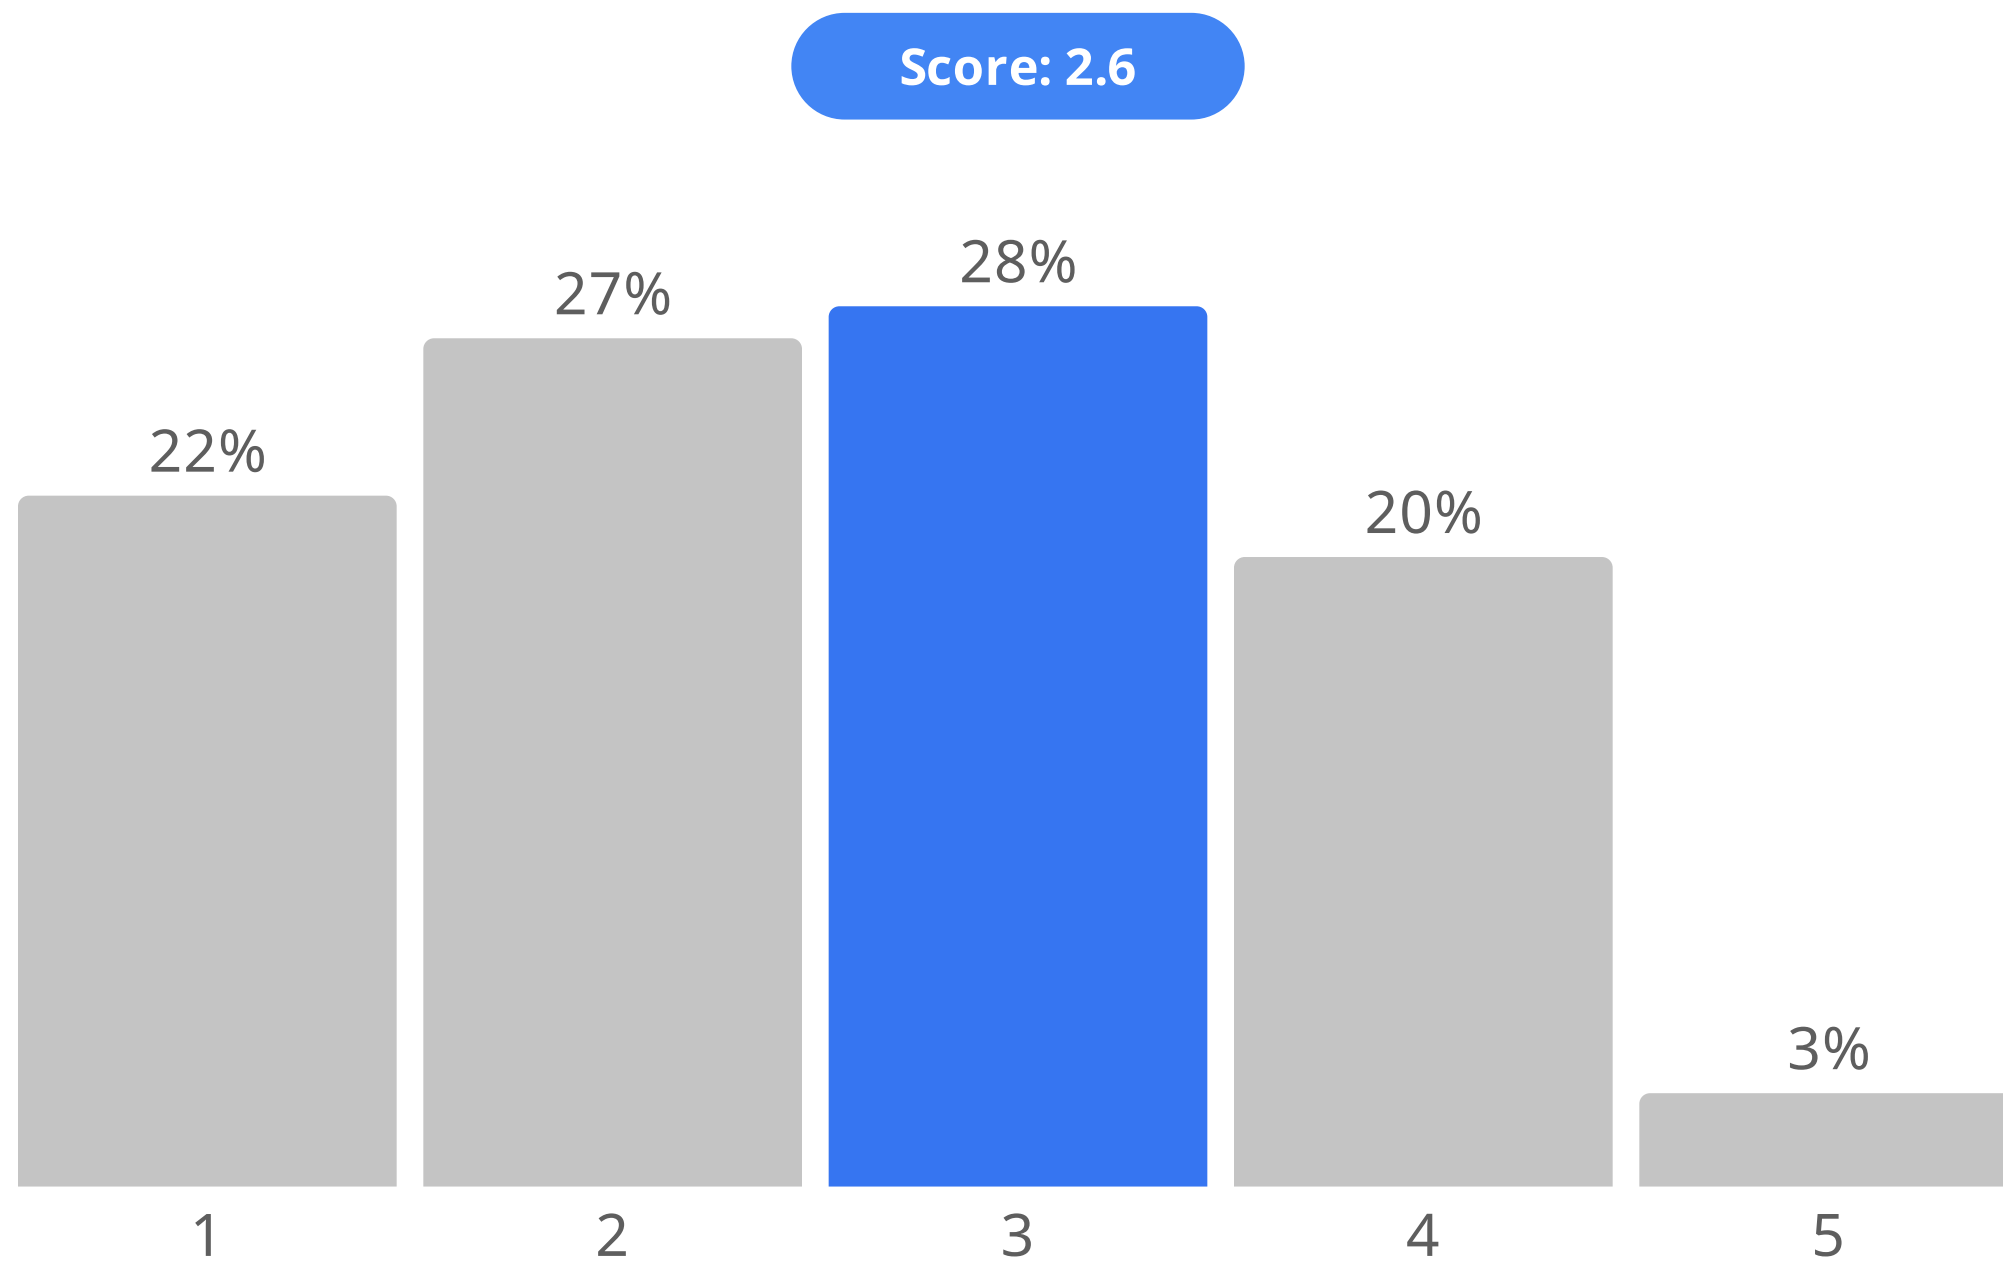

...have a recorded lecture on Moodle and separate Q&A sessions with the lecturer?

SLIDE: #3 Livestream or pre-recorded? (2/2)

206

What proportion of your lectures with >100 students uses live streams?
(many stars = many livestreams, few stars = many pre-recorded lectures)

SLIDE: #6 What about lecture notes? (1/2)

2 3 9

If it were possible to order printed lecture scripts online, how many scripts would you order

(1/2)

I generally don't use printed scripts

I'd rather print the scripts myself
